COLONIAL VIRGINIA

Written for The Times-Dispatch in Commemoration of the Three Hundredth Anniversary of the Settlement of Jamestown.

By Dr. J. A. C. CHANDLER and Dr. T. B. THAMES.

This book covers the most interesting period of history of the English-speaking people in the Western World. It is full of romance and mighty deeds. The colonial period of American history has always been fascinating to the student and is filled with deeds that grip the imagination.

The narrative will appeal to Virginians. Every one should be familiar with the glorious achievements of colonial days, and the book should be made a part of the history course in every school in Virginia. It is printed from clear plates, in large type, embellished with numerous half-tones in sepia, and a frontispiece in color of Pocahontas, made by Mr. William L. Sheppard from the original at Booton Rectory, Norfolk, England. The cover design is very artistic. The story is told in twenty-five chapters and 388 pages. It will be sent postpaid for $1.50 by Colonial Virginia Company, 916 East Main Street, Richmond, Va.

SAUNDERS'S GRIP IS BADLY BROKEN

Question Now Is Whether He Can Deliver Vest-Pocket Precincts in April Primary.

In political quarters leaders of one sort and another and ward heelers of the unchanging type are still wondering how it happened that Clyde W. Saunders lost his grip on the City Democratic Committee. Whether or not he has completely lost it will be determined later on in the campaign, when he will show how many precincts he will carry this year in the pockets of his vest. The only important question considered by the committee on Monday night was the date for the primary. Different days were suggested. Mr. Saunders was in favor of the March proposition, and spoke briefly in advocacy of it. When everybody else had spoken there was a demand for the vote.

Beaten by Two Votes.

Friends of Mr. Saunders say that with a full attendance he might have demonstrated that he was still master of the situation. Be that as it may, he was beaten by two votes, and what is more, Chairman Doherty and Secretary Duke stood up against him. W. P. Leaman yelled "Dutch," made the motion for the March primary, this having the endorsement of Mr. Saunders. Mr. Leaman said that Mayor McCutcheon and Judge Richardson wanted a quick finish, but the Mayor declares now that

Mr. Leaman was mistaken as far as he was concerned. It may have been a small matter to the public, but it was not that to Mr. Saunders, long regarded as the political boss of Richmond. When he was beaten he bit deeply into the stub of a cigar and frowned. Around the hall there were whispers, but nobody applauded, for nobody wanted to arouse the wrath of the political king.

Satisfied with the Date.

Apparently, however, April 14th is a satisfactory date to the candidates. Some of them in City Council who are sure of re-election wanted the primary at an earlier day, but the element which is trying to break in desired a little more time for campaigning.

Also, the ward heelers wanted a little more beer. They cannot expect kegs contributions from the Mayor or Judge Richardson, as those leaders of temperance are not inclined to set forth the thirst of the bibulous voters.

In business circles particularly the action of the committee is very generally indorsed, inasmuch as the argument used against the early primary was that quick action would deter the better class of men from entering the race. Even though there is a demand for high-class candidates, there is little assurance that they will get into the fight, and it seems to be admitted that unless the standard is raised there will be few changes in the two branches.

Committee Appointed to Look Into Condition of Railroad Stations to Take Matter Up Soon.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch.

Within the near future pressure will be brought to bear upon the Atlantic Coast Line and the Southern Railway to improve the facilities at their stations in this city. A committee has been appointed by President Leams, of the City Assembly, to take some action in the matter, and this committee will get down to business in a short time. It will first inspect the stations and report back to the Council, which will in turn decide upon just what additional steps are necessary. If the railroads refuse to remedy the existing conditions, which are declared to be anything but satisfactory, the Council will appeal to the State Corporation Commission.

COUPLE MISSING; FRIENDS ALARMED

Mysterious Talk About Black Hand Society—Constable Makes Raid on Office.

High Constable W. H. Wyatt yesterday raided the establishment of Andrea Sparti, No. 9 North Seventh Street, and levied on his office furniture to satisfy a claim of R. E. V. Furluro, of $15, with costs, for back rent. Sparti, who ran an Italian employment agency, has disappeared, and the neighbors are filled with dark and mysterious forebodings as to his whereabouts. He has been seen in Buckhams county. Some of these laborers charged Sparti with inducing them to come under false promises. He was tried in the Hastings Court here and a small fine was imposed.

Following this trial it is said Sparti received several letters signed with a black hand, making threats that would be executed unless a sum of money was forthcoming. Sparti told his neighbors about the matter, and said he had refused to pay the money. Then he went to New York and his wife followed. Since then their movements have been clouded in mystery. Whether Mrs. Sparti ever found her husband or whether the dreaded society worked vengeance on both, will probably never be known.
